

Help us stamp out election fraud

Watch out if:

- You receive any election mail addressed to people who don't live with you
- Someone asks you to sign something to do with elections and you don't understand what it is
- Someone asks to deliver your postal vote back to the council for you and it makes you worried

They could be trying to commit election offences

If you are suspicious or worried about anything to do with voting and elections you can report it to the election fraud hotline on (01733) 452250 or to the police on 101. If you believe an offence is taking place now you can call 999.

please note and store this number
VOTE FRAUD HOTLINE: 01733 452249

